OVERVIEW

The KVP was launched to provide investment opportunities to the population in rural areas who don't have basic financial identification like a PAN card or an account number. Instead of investing in schemes which can mislead people, this gives them a chance to put their money in something which has the support of the Government. Along with the promise of doubling the money in a fixed duration this also gives them a much higher liquidity compared to other similar schemes.

Given the potential this financial instrument has C-edge has launched its own KVP solution. The C-edge KVP solution is highly flexible and comes with our expertise of servicing more than eleven thousand branches.
